

HAAS MUST STAND TRIAL.

Man Jointly Indicted With Theodore Price and Others on Charge of Connection with Cotton Leak Scandal will be Tried in Washington.

New York, Nov. 30.—Moses Haas must go Washington to stand trial on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States government in connection with the so-called cotton report leak scandal case. This was definitely determined today when United States Commissioner Shields held Haas for trial in the Washington courts. Haas was indicted together with Theodore S. Price, E. S. Holmes, Jr., and Frederick A. Peckham, by a federal grand jury in this city last June. The indictments were identical except that in some of the bills it was alleged that the crime was committed in New York, and in others the City of Washington was named.

Counsel for Haas applied later for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of his client, contending that Haas was not in the custody of the court, but in the hands of the bondsman. Judge Holt granted the writ and pending the hearing on it the accused was held in $5,000 bail, which was furnished. The extradition proceedings in the case of Price and Peckham still pending before Commissioner Shields were practically decided in advance by the opinion in the Haas matter.

STEADY IMPROVEMENT

Excerpts From Matthew Addy and Co.'s Circular.

Solid improvement in business is reported from every quarter and the following excerpts from Matthew Addy & Co.'s Cincinnati circular are in line with the general situation:

"There was a time a few months back when a consumer did not care how long shipments were postponed—the longer the better. But that is all changed now and many foundries that were running on one-third or one-half time have gone back to full time. At the beginning of the buying movement the furnaces were willing to sell for delivery, through the entire first half of 1909, but since such a volume of iron has been sold deliveries are being limited to only the first quarter of next year and in many cases furnaces prefer not to quote at all.

"We believe it is a fact that the improvement in the business started with pig iron, but it has now spread to the finished lines. The whole trade is on a much better foundation than was the case a month ago.

"The price of southern No. 2 is firm at $13, Birmingham, and in the north the general asking price is $16. These quotations mark a substantial advance over those that ruled in September and October and in themselves reflect the improved conditions."

Back From "Forest Festival."

Wilmington Star.

Collector of Customs B. F. Keith returned yesterday morning from Asheville, N. C., where last week he attended the great "forest festival" which had been in progress at the Vanderbilt-Biltmore estate several days. Mr. Keith read before the convention, which was made up of members from all over the United States, a very able and well prepared paper on "The Future Destiny of the South Depends Upon the Protection of its Forests. This Being True, The Question Arises, How is it to be Done." Mr. Keith was highly complimented on his paper and speaks in the most enthusiastic terms of the value of the work of the conference.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

With this issue of the Argus Mr. Fred A. Moore, recently of Tarboro, becomes a stockholder in this company and enters upon the duties of Business Manager of this publication. Mr. Moore's experience as a newspaperman extends over a period of ten years, during which time he has been a most successful writer and solicitor of advertisements and subscriptions, and we feel that the Argus is indeed fortunate in gaining one so conversant with every department and feature of a daily newspaper as is Mr. Moore, and it is cause of encouragement to our public spirited citizens who have faith in the future of Goldsboro as well as to the Argus that Mr. Moore, after viewing the field over, has elected to cast his lot with the Argus and our people.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore and family have already taken up their residence in our city, to make their permanent home here, and we can assure them, in all sincerity, a cordial welcome to the Best Town in the State.

The identification of Mr. Moore with the Argus means much to the paper and its patrons, as under his supervision some material improvements will be inaugurated as soon as the physical capacity of the plant can be brought up to the requirements.

With this preamble we present Mr. Moore to our people, assuring them of our cordial esteem and bespeaking for him their courtesy and good will.

A WORD PERSONAL.

The undersigned, in identifying himself with the Argus and assuming its business management, desires to say to its readers and to the citizens of Goldsboro that he comes, with his family, to cast his lot with this people fully convinced of the certainty of a "Greater Goldsboro," and that the opportunities of the present are most inviting.

I shall, of course, at all times do my level best for the interests of the Argus, and I ask the hearty co-operation of the business men of the city especially, and that of its public spirited citizens in general, feeling assured that the mutual interests of the paper and the people in so intelligent a community cannot fail of recognition, and, consequently, we shall both realize and enjoy that larger measure of prosperity that is ours for the striving in common.

Sincerely,

F. A. MOORE.

GIBBONS ON DIVORCE

Cardinal Gibbons Laments the Condition In This Country.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 30.—Cardinal Gibbons commenting on the divorce statistics recently set forth in a Federal census bulletin said it was a deplorable exhibit, and there must be united effort to combat the evil if we are to remain a Christian people. There must be more stringent legislation on the subject, he declared.

Referring to the showing of a divorce in every twelve marriages, made by the Federal experts, the Cardinal said:

"But when we come to observe more closely we find that as the Catholics do not tolerate divorce, they must be excluded from this statement which makes the showing actually one divorce in every ten marriages. Could anything be more shocking? The data shows that the divorce rate is higher in the United States than in any other civilized country in the world. The marital tie is becoming less and less binding, and unless something can be done to check the evil the results must be appalling."

WHEEL OF JUSTICE GRINDS.

Many Cases Disposed Of at First Day's Session of Superior Court.

The court house was the scene Monday of two pathetic incidents, in which Robert L. Kornegay and Needham Langley, of Selma, figured. The former was charged with beating his wife severely and the latter with carrying a concealed weapon.

In sentencing Kornegay, Judge Walter H. Neal considered the fact that he was the only support of a wife and eight children, the oldest not over 12 years of age, and following a severe reprimand, imposed the amount of the costs of the trial upon Kornegay, and placed him upon the good behavior list for 12 months.

In the case of Needham Langley, the young man's aged mother had toiled faithfully to earn money to free her son, who had been confined to the county jail for 45 days. The young man had $15 of his own and Judge Neal imposed a fine to that amount, returning to the aged mother her hard earned cash.

The following cases have been disposed of:

S. J. Robertson, of Durham, c. c. w., fined and placed on good behavior list for 12 months.

Alfred Farmer, a. d. w., 6 months on roads.

Lewis Mitchell and Herman Lee, affray, former fined $5 and latter $10.

Henry Whitley, continued from last term, 6 months on roads.

Frank and Ed. Redmond, affray, fined $5 each and costs.

Nathaniel Price, retailing without license, not prosecuted.

"Nettleton" Shoes!

What's in a name? Everything between certainty and doubt if the name be "NETTLETON." In nothing that you buy can you be more easily deceived than shoes. Beneath the gloss and veneer, pancake soles may be masquerading as oak leather, sheep skin as kid, and cotton thread as silk. Can you detect it? No, but you can avoid it. Look for the name "NETTLETON." You know what it stands for. You know the makers cannot afford to jeopardize that name by deceiving you or cheapening the shoe. For that would be "killing the goose that laid the golden egg." Buy shoes bearing the signature "NETTLETON" then you're safe. This store sells them. That makes them doubly safe.
